Ms. Leinonen,

Thank you for your recent email. Michael Freeman, OUAC's Clinical Director, shared your email and accompanying letter with me.

By way of information, the OUAC Advisory Council was established to assist the OUAC in identifying the changing needs of those impacted by the Pulse tragedy. The Advisory Council does not have decision-making authority. Membership of the Advisory Council incorporates a wide variety of diverse perspectives and includes representatives from:

- Two Spirit
- LGBT+ Center
- One Orlando Alliance
- Aspire Executive
- JP Morgan Chase
- Osceola County Government
- Orange County Government
- City of Orlando
- Contigo Fund
- OnePulse Foundation
- Muslim Women's Organization
- First Unitarian Church
- Oasis Fellowship Church
- Central Florida Foundation

While Nickole Parker represents the OnePULSE Foundation on the Advisory Council, again, as stated above the council is not responsible for directive to the work of the OUAC.

In response to your request that the Advisory Council or the OUAC send you letter to family members of victims, as well as survivors. The OUAC was established to provide direct support services, case management and navigate clients to mental health services and other community programs. We are narrowly focused on those activities. To that end, we do not plan to circulate your letter to family members and survivors which. In order for us to be effect in our role, we must remain steadfast in providing the services we currently provide.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "RLA", with a long horizontal line extending to the right.
